

618 west 12th street is the home of Nancy and Dave Brossart. Dave moved into the home in 1953 at 3 years of age. Dave met Nancy on the same street since she was a neighbor of his parents. When Dave's parents were no longer able to live in the home, Nancy and Dave made 618 west 12th their home in the early 1980s and raised their children. They are currently empty nesters. Over the years, they have made exterior updates including new windows, siding fencing and a lovely landscaped area, which Dave has done and upkept himself.

Dave and Nancy both agreed that keeping up ones home is a reflection of pride and encourages neighbors to raise their standards of home care. They enjoy Covington because of the close access to the interstate, amenities of Cincinnati and ability to enjoy the growth of nearby communities like Ludlow and Bromley. One disadvantage to living in the area is renters that do not care and absentee landlords the do not upkeep property.
